

The discrepancy-transfer correlation changes sign across measurement protocols

The two protocols produce different signs

Where the answer is known

